Check all doors & windows are secure before sleeping or departing.

Windows & doors are most common forced entry points. Strengthen your boundaries with window locks, solid doors with deadlocks & security screens.

Install an alarm, fit & maintain motion activated sensor lights.

If strangers knock on your & neighbours doors looking for people by the wrong names notify the police immediately.

Keep a list of important numbers next to the phone in case of emergency & ensure your property has clearly marked street numbers.

Remember to ask tradesman for id before entry & it is advisable to move valuables & obvious wealth before workmen arrive in your home.

Consider installing a safe for those irreplaceable items—try to buy a fire rated unit & securely affix it to a suitably strong location.

Backup your phones, computers, photos etc. Keep a copy in the safe.

Nowadays there are several ways to mark property like engravers & ultra violet markers. Mark V (for Victoria) then licence number.

Construction sites attract thieves of all varieties—Install security alarms after power is on before fitting off appliances. There are even stand alone alarms with mobile phone diallers built in, 2 way voice communications & solar powered for those sites requiring more advanced protection.
